ZIR-232

IR/RS-232 DEVICE COMMANDER MODULE

Expansion bay module for ZR-98 Router. Allows control of nearly all of today's popular brands of consumer electronic devices directly from the ZAC-60 and ZAC-30 display. It also interfaces with most home automation systems - and all from one convenient module. External devices can be controlled via IR, RS-232, or a combination of both.

ZMP-3

ZMP3 DOORBELL MODULE

Expansion bay module for ZR-98 Router. Enables triggering of custom-created audio for doorbells, driveway sensors, motion detectors and other similar devices. The module plays any one of five different audio files via five on-board dry contact closures. ZMP3 files of variable length can be stored onto any SD Card (not included). Includes one embedded doorbell sound when SD Card not inserted.

ZEP-11

EXTERNAL PAGING INTERFACE MODULE

Expansion bay module for ZR-98 Router. Features an auto-sensing audio input with adjustable VOX threshold. Audio received by the ZEP-11 is automatically routed to the ZR-98 Router's paging bus and processed according to the paging configuration(s) in place for the ZON system. A dry contact closure "trigger" adds additional flexibility. When used alone, the trigger is suitable for creating a system-wide mute, allowing the system to mute on external events such as doorbells, telephone and security systems. The trigger can also be used with the page bus input to add sound to external events.
